COMÉDIE DRAMATIQUE

588 Rue Paradis is the 2nd autobiographical film by celebrated French-Armenian director Henri Verneuil, born Ashot Malakian in 1920 in the Ottoman Empire. This dramatic comedy sequel to Verneuil's Mayrig (1991)* also features Omar Sharif and Claudia Cardinale, and examines Verneuil's complex relationship with his father, who brought his family to Marseille, France to escape the Armenian Genocide.

Verneuil directed many popular French films and is sometimes connected to the French New Wave movement of the 1960's. He was nominated for an Oscar, and received awards at Cannes and other international film festivals. He died in France in 2002.
